

Austin Joseph
SGAP Leaders SPEAK

Marketing Manager
Xbox.com

Austin Joseph is the Marketing Manager of Xbox.com. Austin attended Morehouse College where he graduated magna cum laude in 2018.

Austin is a former SGAP Leaders alumni. He interned for SGAP upon graduating from high school, then earned a full ride scholarship to Morehouse College. While at Morehouse, he received scholarships to attend the Semester of Sea program where he sailed to 11 countries in Asia, Africa and Europe. During the summers, he interned at NBC News, NBC Sports, and Google (YouTube team). Mr. Joseph was also selected for a week-long summer enrichment program at Harvard Business School.

Austin will share his honest journey from high school to college and how his failures forced him to expand his horizons.

SGAPLeaders

We engage and empower the youth of our generation to think critically about the real-world, environmental and societal problems of our time, and to devise creative, community-based solutions to tackle them, so that they may become change agents in their communities and in turn, the world.